Action Stations X

Lights, camera, action!

Action Stations by Forbes Industries give you the ability to transform what appears to be a standard food service station into any configuration for cooking, grilling, warming, cooling, chilling, and displaying food.

Adaptability by you

Each Action Station can be easily adapted and changed on-site to fit your specific menu. Choose from several different interchangeable appliance tiles that will streamline your menu offering to your needs.

Zone in

Our action stations are set up in zones to give you the most versatility in food prep. Half of the station is set as a dedicated zone for larger or more frequently used appliances and two swappable zones for less frequently used tiles. On the dedicated zone, choose from either a 1-pan or 2-pan sized appliance.

Turn heads and panels

Forbes Action Station panels are completely removable, no tools required! Panel sets can be ordered single or double-sided giving you the flexibility to change looks between events in under a minute. This also makes cleanup a breeze! With removable panels, there are no hard to reach places.

Unplug and play

When you have an ideal location picked out for an event and find there is no dedicated power, what can you do? Battery power options allow you to take your operation to the streets.

Roll in style

Banquet in the ballroom? Rooftop reception? Party on the Patio? Take the action where you need it. Heavy duty casters make it easy to move each station where you want it when you want it.

Social engagement

Buffets are a thing of the past. And besides, who's ever shared a picture of static buffet anyway? An interactive food station makes for a more enjoyable, sharable experience and offers your guests the ability to customize their dish selections to their liking.

Built Forbes tough

With extensive engineering and unmatched reliability, Forbes action stations are built to last, increasing your ROI.

To plug or not to plug...
